Poole Grammar School wants to make the exam experience as stress-free and successful as possible for all candidates.

This booklet has information and help for you and your parents/carers. Please read it carefully and show it to your parents/carers so that they are also aware of the exam regulations and the procedures to follow in the event of any problems occurring. Whilst we aim to provide you with as much information as possible, this document cannot cover every situation.

The awarding bodies (exam boards) set strict criteria, which must be followed for the conduct of exams and Poole Grammar School is required to follow them precisely. You should therefore, pay particular attention to the Joint Council for Qualifications (JCQ) Information for Candidates which can be found on Sharepoint in the Exam Section.

You MUST make yourself fully aware of the rules and regulations before you sit an examination or start to prepare non-examined assessments (NEA) for your subjects.

REMEMBER, if you contravene any of the regulations, however innocently, you may have your examination marks and grades withheld by the awarding organisations, and in some circumstances, be disqualified from taking exams for several years.

Invigilators are in the room to act on any situations they are faced with. If for any reasons there is a problem, please tell them immediately. Often, issues can be dealt with at the time and not after the exam.

Exam dates can be found on the school website and Sharepoint.

Some of the questions you may have are answered at the back of this booklet. If there is anything you do not understand or any question that has not been addressed, PLEASE ASK.

STATEMENT OF ENTRY

All candidates receive a Statement of Entry from school indicating the subjects they are being entered for with exam boards and the levels of entry, where applicable. This is usually distributed at the end of January before students take their exams in the summer. Please check that these are correct and inform the Exams Office immediately if you think they are incorrect. Most GCSE subjects have one tier of entry, some have Foundation and Higher tiers.

You must check everything on your Statement of Entry very carefully. Particularly check that all personal details (date of birth, spelling of names) are accurate as these will appear on certificates and it will be very costly to change them once certificates are awarded.

CANDIDATE NUMBER/EXAM NUMBER

Each candidate has a four digit candidate number. This is the number you will enter on each exam paper or answer booklet. It will appear next to your name on seating plans and exams registers, and is always found on all statement of entries and personal exam timetables. Please learn it & remember it. Students will be able to refer to their personal details which are on a label which is placed on exam desks.

EXAM IDENTIFICATION

In line with JCQ regulations, in order for invigilators to identify which students are in exam rooms and sitting the correct exam, labels with your school photograph will be placed on exam desks. On the label will be your legal name, date of birth, exam candidate number, exam paper title and exam paper code. These are personal to you and you will require them when filling out your exam papers.

You MUST NOT write anything on this label, as it will be required to be viewed throughout the exam by Invigilators.

SHAREPOINT

The exam page on Sharepoint provides up-to-date and detailed information on all examination matters. There is a great deal of important information on this page including:

- Exam Dates and Deadlines
- What to do if you're not going to be here on Results Day
- Post Results information and forms
- Plus plenty of additional information.

Make yourself familiar with its contents and check it from time to time as it is updated throughout the year.

WHEN DO EXAMS TAKE PLACE?

GCSE and AS/A Level exams take place in May and June, although there will be mock exams throughout the year. Your teachers will advise you about the exams that concern you. Re-sit exams take place in November for GCSE English Language and Maths only.

In some subjects, practical and language speaking exams start as early as March and finish at the end of May.

External exams are national and have fixed dates and times, set by Exam Boards that cannot be changed – exams must take precedence.

CONTINGENCY DAY

The awarding bodies normally have a designated day as a 'contingency day' for examinations.

The designation of a 'contingency day' within the common examination timetable is in the event of national or local disruption to examinations. It is part of the awarding bodies' standard contingency planning for examinations.

Students must remain available until the contingency day in case an awarding body need to invoke its contingency plan. If planning to book holidays, please plan after this date. Whilst exam boards cannot make students attend a re-scheduled exam, they will not award a grade to students who have not attended the re-scheduled exam, unless it is for a reason covered by 'special consideration'. The date is communicated with students in the lead up to their exams.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Each year you will be sent, via your School e-mail address, several notices. These may include:

- Warning to Candidates
- Information for Candidates – Written Exams
- Notice to Candidates – Non-Examined Assessments (NEA)
- Any other information issued by the Joint Council for Qualifications (JCQ)

These notices set out the rules and regulations laid down by the JCQ and the Awarding Organisations who set the exams and coursework. You must read and understand them as any infringements will result in a malpractice investigation.

PERSONAL DATA AND COPYRIGHT

The awarding bodies collect information about exam candidates. To understand what information is collected and how it is used, you must read the JCQ information for candidates – privacy notice.

The copyright of any form of work created by a candidate that is submitted to an awarding body for assessment (referred to as Assessment Materials) belongs to the candidate. By submitting this work, a candidate is granting the awarding body a non-exclusive, royalty-free licence to use their assessment materials (referred to as Assessment Licence). If a candidate wishes to terminate the awarding body's rights for anything other than assessing his/her work, the awarding body must be notified by the centre and it is at the discretion of the awarding body whether or not to terminate such rights.

WHAT TIME DO EXAMS START?

Please ensure you allow enough time to get to school so that if you are delayed for any reason e.g. heavy traffic, or a bus does not arrive, you will still arrive at the examination venue in good time. It is your responsibility to arrive on time and the start of examinations will not be delayed if you are absent.

EXAM START TIMES

You must be at your exam venue at least 15 minutes before the time stated on your timetable. This is to ensure you find your seat in a timely manner and listen to all the instructions before the exams begin.

- Morning exams start at: 9:00am
- Afternoon exams start at: 1:15pm

Start times may vary for some students, depending on exam rooms and school events.

In the event of an exam clash you will be notified in writing if there are any variations to these times and you will receive a letter with your timetable.

If you arrive late after the start of any exam, the awarding organisations have to be notified and you may not receive any marks. The exam boards will be contacted and will advise whether you will be allowed to sit the exam or not.

If you are going to be late for your exam DO NOT use your mobile phone to access the internet, and DO NOT telephone or speak to anyone except the Exams Office to seek guidance – call the Poole Grammar School main number and ask for the Exams Officer. If the Exams Officer is not available, explain to Reception the situation and they will give you advice.

HOW WILL I KNOW WHERE TO GO FOR MY EXAMS?

For each exam season, you will receive an electronic version of your timetable through your school email address. The timetable will show the dates and times of your exams and where they are to take place. Do not assume that another student is sitting an exam at the same time as you. That student might be sitting the exam in a different session due to a clash.

REMEMBER: It is your responsibility to be in the right place at the right time.

If you believe that there is a mistake on your timetable, e.g. you have been entered for the wrong exam, or you believe an exam is at the wrong time, contact the Exams Office immediately when you receive your timetable.

WHAT MUST I DO ON EXAM DAYS?

- School Uniform must be worn by all main school students for exams. 6th Form students must still adhere to the 6th Form uniform rules.
- Wait outside the exam room 15 minutes before the exam is due to start and double check your exam desk number on the seating plan that will be displayed outside every room.
- Always follow the instructions given to you by the invigilators.

- You must be silent in the exam rooms at all times – if you want to say something, raise your hand and wait for the Invigilator to come to you. Exam conditions start from as soon as you enter the exam room, and finish when you leave the room.
- If you have a query ask the invigilator straight away. They will expect to be asked questions so do not hesitate to raise your hand and ask if you are unsure about something.
- Do not attempt to communicate with another candidate whilst in the room.
- Leave hats, bags, coats, etc, leave in lockers. Valuables should not be brought to school.
- Wrist watches should not be in your possession and should be left in your bag along with any type of electronic device.
- Food is not allowed in the exam room, unless you have a medical condition and the arrangement has been pre-arranged with the SEND department, but you may bring a transparent (not coloured in anyway) plastic bottle of water with the labels removed and no logo's.
- Do not write on the exam desks. This is regarded as vandalism and you may be charged for any damage.

If you must bring a mobile telephone, watch or other electronic communication device with you to school, they MUST BE SWITCHED OFF and left in your bag in your locker.

Make sure that any alarms on the devices are also turned off as these can sound even when the device is switched off.

If any of the above items are found in your possession or go off during the exam, you WILL BE REPORTED to the awarding organisation who can disqualify you from that paper or even the whole subject.

A label will be attached to your desk showing your name, candidate number and the exam paper(s) you are sitting in that session. Use this information when entering details onto the answer books. Ensure your candidate number, forename, surname, and all other required information is written correctly on your exam paper.

If you have extra time or other arrangements in your exams, this will be shown on your yellow desk card, giving details of your additional time etc. If you believe that you are entitled to arrangements and it is not shown on your desk, raise your hand and tell the invigilator immediately before the exam.

WHAT EQUIPMENT SHALL I BRING?

You must have a non-coloured, see-through plastic bag/pencil-case containing the following items:

- Black ink pens, NOT blue, green, or red. No Gel Pens or erasable pens – you must write your answers in black ink only.
- HB pencils and an eraser for multiple choice papers or diagrams.
- A ruler, compass, protractor and other drawing equipment as advised by your teachers.

- A calculator, but not in a box, case or wallet – internet capability, instruction booklets or calculator lids are not permitted – programmable calculators should be avoided and if brought in they MUST have the memory erased and/or placed in Exam Mode.
- You can use a calculator for any exam unless you are specifically told otherwise (so long as it does not have internet capability or any stored information).
- You are unable to borrow equipment from another candidate during the exam.

Before you begin each exam read the instructions on the front of your exam paper. If it states that calculators are not allowed for that paper but you know that you have one in your possession then you must raise your hand and pass it to the invigilator immediately.

Programmable calculators MUST have the memory erased. It is your responsibility to ensure that the memory has been erased – they may be checked by invigilators and you will be reported to the awarding organisation if anything is found stored in the memory. Make sure that the batteries are working. Invigilators will not be able to provide spare batteries.

Exam stationery packs can be bought from The Main School Office for a small fee which will be added to your parent pay account. Calculators are not included.

Calculators in Exams

Calculators must be: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ of a size suitable for use on the desk; ○ either battery or solar powered; ○ free of lids, cases and covers which have printed instructions or formulas. 	Calculators must not: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • be designed or adapted to offer any of these facilities: - <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ language translators; ○ symbolic algebra manipulation; ○ symbolic differentiation or integration; ○ communication with other machines or the internet; • be borrowed from another candidate during an examination for any reason; • have retrievable information stored in them - this includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ databanks; ○ dictionaries; ○ mathematical formulas; ○ text.
The candidate is responsible for the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ the calculator’s power supply; ○ the calculator’s working condition; ○ clearing anything stored in the calculator.

DO NOT BRING INTO THE EXAM ROOM

- Correcting pens, fluids such as Tippex, or correcting tape – cross out incorrect work by drawing a single line through it. You must do all work, including rough work, on your examination paper unless otherwise instructed.
- Unauthorised materials such as scrap paper, blotting paper, books (unless they are specifically authorised for the Exam Paper), mathematical tables, dictionaries, or anything else which could be used in the exam.

- Highlighter pens may not be used in your answers (you may use them to highlight questions within the question paper or question/answer books).
- Any electronic equipment including headphones.
- Tissues in packets, remove them from the packaging before you enter the exam room and place them loose on your desk. An invigilator is likely to check them for any notes.
- Do not enter the exams rooms with any notes or doodles on your arms. You will be asked to go and wash them before you sit the exam. Do not write on your hands or arms during the exam, write everything on your exam paper.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

- The school employs invigilators to supervise exams. Students are expected to behave in a respectful manner towards them and follow their instructions at all times.
- Ensure you write your candidate number, legal forename, legal surname and if required, the exam paper reference/code on the front of your answer booklet and on any other additional booklets or sheets of paper.
- Make sure you have the correct exam paper in front of you on your exam desk. If in doubt, inform the Invigilator straight away.
- Candidates MUST NOT write inappropriate, obscene or offensive material on exam papers. To do so constitutes malpractice and you could be disqualified from all your exams.
- At the end of the exam you will be told to stop writing and you must do this immediately even if you have not finished your sentence. It will be your responsibility to hand in all work. Invigilators will collect the written scripts from you, followed by the question papers and other material. No exam stationery or other documents may be removed from the exam room.
- Nobody is allowed to leave the exam room before the end of the allotted time for the exam. In the case of students with Extra Time, they may either leave at the normal exam end time or, when all students with extra time have finished the exam.
- If you wish to go to the toilet during an exam, raise your hand and speak to an invigilator – you must be accompanied by an invigilator to the toilet. Toilets will be searched immediately after an exam has started to seek out any material concealed for cheating. Unless it is a pre-arranged exam arrangement, you will not get your exam time back.
- If you are unwell during the exam you MUST report this to the invigilator at the time AND to the Exams Office after the exam. The Exams Officer will advise on what other action must be taken.
- When dismissed, leave the room quietly, without talking and do not start talking until you are clear of the exam room as others may still be doing their exams.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF TWO OF MY EXAMS ARE SCHEDULED AT THE SAME TIME?

Exam clashes will be resolved by the Exams Officer before your Individual Student Timetable is issued to you.

You may find that one or more papers have been rescheduled so that they are taken consecutively, or one or more papers may be moved to another session on the same day. If it is the latter, you will receive a separate letter from the Exams Office specifically relating to the exams clash which will contain information about the clash and what you must do, and the rules you will have to follow.

If you fail to follow the instructions on the “Instructions for Candidates – Exam Clashes” that will be sent to you, then you may be disqualified from the exam(s) which are clashing.

If you have an exam clash and are sitting one of your exams early or late you must be kept under staff supervision so that you do not come into contact with other students who have already sat the exam or who may be sitting it later.

Do not leave the exam room but wait until you are escorted by a member of staff to the designated room where you will wait until it is time to sit your next exam. If this is during the lunch period then please bring a packed lunch with you. You may take books to study but the rules about mobile phones, watches and other devices still apply. You may only revise from paper-based notes and not use any electronic devices, even if they cannot connect to the internet.

When you have two or more exams in a session they will be shown on your timetable with a five or ten-minute gap between them. This period of time is just to allow one set of exam papers to be collected in and the next set of papers to be given out. During this time, you will remain under formal examination conditions within the examination room whilst the scripts are being collected/distributed.

RESULTS DAY

Exam results are normally issued by the awarding organisations about two months after the exam session. The Exams Office will notify you well in advance of the specific dates of issue through email communications. Results will be issued in the form of a letter and available for collection on or after results day. They will also be available via an email from approximately midday on results day. The results envelope will contain important post-results information about services, deadlines and fees.

Exam Results will not be given out over the telephone.

If you are unable to collect your results at the specified times, contact the Exams Office before the end of the summer term so that advice can be given on alternative means of collection. Others may only collect your results with your written permission (Contact the Exams Office in advance for advice).

WHAT CAN I DO IF I AM NOT HAPPY AFTER RECEIVING MY RESULTS?

Ensure that you are able to contact the Exams Office during the week following results day.

There are a number of options and services available to help you and some are only available for a very short time – Clerical re-check, access to photocopies of scripts, priority review of marking, original scripts, and a (standard) review of marking.

- Photocopies of scripts – these may be requested personally by the student at the Exams Office within a week of the results being issued. Dates and costs will be published prior to the issue of results. They will enable you and your teachers to have a look at your answers and decide whether it is worth considering asking for a “Review of Marking” of your script. It is often better to adopt this approach rather than going straight for a review and possibly waste your money or lose marks.
- Priority Review of Marking (Year 13) – again this is only available for a very short time for students whose university place is at stake. Students MUST apply personally at the Exams Office to have a Priority Review of exam scripts if you think that it may have been marked incorrectly. You may not have time to ask for a copy of your exam script first. Papers are not ‘re-marked’, a senior marker looks at how the mark scheme was originally applied.
- Original Scripts – Students may apply personally at the Exams Office for the return of your original scripts to use them as a reference for future exams. If you ask for the original script, you cannot then ask for a Review of Marking. Original scripts will be sent to the School in October/November from the summer exams. Dates for requests and costs will be published in advance of the issue of results as above.
- Review of Marking – Students MUST apply personally at the Exams Office to have a review of your exam script if you think that it may have been marked incorrectly. Students must sign the correct forms and not parents. Papers are not ‘re-marked’, a senior marker looks at how the mark scheme was originally applied.
- Clerical re-check – Students must apply personally at the Exams Office to have their marks checked. This service will check to see if all marks have been counted correctly.

Dates for requests will be published in advance of the issue of results. Fees will be communicated through information issued on results days.

You cannot have coursework reviewed which has been internally marked (marked by your teachers) and externally moderated (marks checked by an independent external examiner). If your Head of Subject believes that coursework which has had the marks lowered by the Moderator, has been incorrectly lowered, they can ask for a re-moderation.

Application forms for photocopies of scripts, original scripts and a review of marking, which must be signed and dated by students, can be obtained from the Exams Office by emailing exams@poolegrammar.com. In the case of a review of marking, you must sign a declaration acknowledging that marks may go down as well as up. All applications for these services must be paid for once the form is submitted to the Exams Office. After the form has been handed in to the Exams Office, the fee will be added to Parent Pay. It is up to the students and parents/carers to make sure that the fee is paid for in advance of the deadline.

Please Note: Remember that some of the above services are only available for one week after results day and you could miss out if not at home. Make sure you can access your school email account in order to contact the Exams Office.

The Exam Boards are very strict with their deadlines and if a deadline is not met, then the school cannot make an application on your behalf.

WHAT DO I HAVE TO DO IF I WANT TO RE-SIT AN EXAM?

All re-sit entries are made through the Exams Office and have to be paid for via Parent Pay or bank transfer.

Specific instructions and dates will be issued through Tutor Groups and email for making re-sit entries for each of the exam sessions. Read the instructions carefully and ensure that you do not incur extra costs by making your entries late. Make sure that you know exactly which subject you want to re-sit. Email the Exams Office stating which subject you wish to re-sit.

You can enter and pay for May/June exams in late November/early December. Information will be distributed during the second half of the Autumn Term.

For A Levels and GCSEs, all components within the subject must be sat during the re-sit opportunity, but for many subjects NEA marks or endorsed grades are carried forward.

HOW WILL I GET MY EXAM CERTIFICATES?

You will be informed during the Autumn Term when your certificates are ready for collection. It is important to keep the school informed of any change of address or contact details – even after you have left Poole Grammar School.

Make sure that you look after your certificates and keep them safe. Should you ever lose or damage them you will have to contact the awarding bodies directly and pay the fee for new certificates or request a statement of results, this can be up to £55 per exam board.

Frequently asked questions

What if I am ill or injured on the day of my Exam?

- If you are ill and able to sit the Examination, come to school as normal and inform the Main Office or Exams Officer straight away, provisions can be made and advice can be given. If you are unable to sit the Exam, contact the school at the earliest possible time so that help and advice can be given. If you have injured yourself and are unable to write, inform the Exams Officer/SEND department straight away. A scribe or access to a computer may need to be put in place who will write/type your answers.

What is Special Consideration?

- Special Consideration is an adjustment to the marks or grades of a candidate who is eligible for consideration. The allowance for Special Consideration is from 0% (consideration given but addition of marks considered inappropriate) to 5% (reserve for exceptional cases). Parents should be aware that any adjustment is likely to be small and no feedback is ever provided. Candidates will only be eligible for Special Consideration if they have been fully prepared and covered the whole course but performance in the exam or in the production of coursework is affected by adverse circumstances beyond their control. Examples of such circumstances may be illness, accident or injury, bereavement, domestic crisis. The Exams Officer must be informed immediately, so that necessary paperwork can be completed (within 7 days of the last exam session for that subject) and the candidate will be required to provide evidence to support such an application.

What do I do if I fall ill during an exam?

- Put your hand up as soon as possible and an invigilator will assist you. You should inform an invigilator if you feel ill before, or during an exam and you feel this may have affected your performance.

What do I do if I think I have the wrong Exam paper?

- Invigilators will ask you to check before the exam starts. If you think something is wrong put your hand up and tell the invigilator immediately.

Can I go to the toilet during the exam?

- You may ask an invigilator to escort you to the toilet during an exam, but you will be using your allocated exam time to do this and you will not get the time back, unless it is for a pre-approved medical condition and rest breaks are in place. Make sure you use the toilet before you enter the exam room so that you are able to concentrate fully on the exam.

If I am late can I still sit the exam?

- Provided you are not too late, it may still be possible for you to sit the exam. Contact the school to let them know you are on your way. You should get to school as quickly as possible and report to the Main Office. A member of staff will escort you to the exam room. You must not enter an exam room without permission after an exam has begun. It may be necessary to relocate you another exam room so that you do not disrupt other candidates.

You should also be aware that if you start the exam more than 60 minutes after the published starting time, the school must inform the exam board and they may decide not to accept your work. Please ensure that you allow enough time to get to school so that if you are delayed (e.g. through transport problems) you will still arrive on time.

What if I don't understand one of the Exam Questions?

- Invigilators are not able to discuss the content of the exam papers or explain the questions. Move on to the next question and return later on in the exam to have a go at answering it.

What if the fire alarm goes off?

- The invigilators will tell you what to do. If you have to evacuate the room leave everything on your desk and leave the room in silence. Close your exam paper when you leave the room. You must not attempt to communicate with any other candidates during the evacuation or when you are at the designated assembly point. You will be under supervision and discussions about the exam may result in a malpractice report sent to the Exam Boards.

What if I can't collect my results on results day?

- If you are going to be away on results day, a nominated person can collect your results on your behalf. You must write the Exams Officer a letter/email stating that you authorise this person to collect your results or they will not be issued on results day. The person you have chosen must bring in photographic ID with them (i.e. Passport or Driving Licence) to confirm their Identity.
